Greeting to all,

A funny thing happened today. Actually, I’m not sure when it happened, exactly, but today, I became aware that things had changed. All my blog posts had disappeared. I found them on the home page, which is interesting because I didn’t have a page in my page file called ‘Home.’

Of course, this had to come to light TODAY, of all days ... my Cover Reveal day for ‘Moria’s Time.’ I spent so long on my blog for today – everything was perfect ... except no one could find the post. It was there, but not where it was supposed to be. It’s OK now, but the day is almost over. Because people couldn’t find the post, no one signed up for the Rafflecopter prize ... a $25 Gift Card to Barnes & Noble.

You might want to head over and get signed up because your odds will be pretty decent! You can sign up until midnight on July 2013.

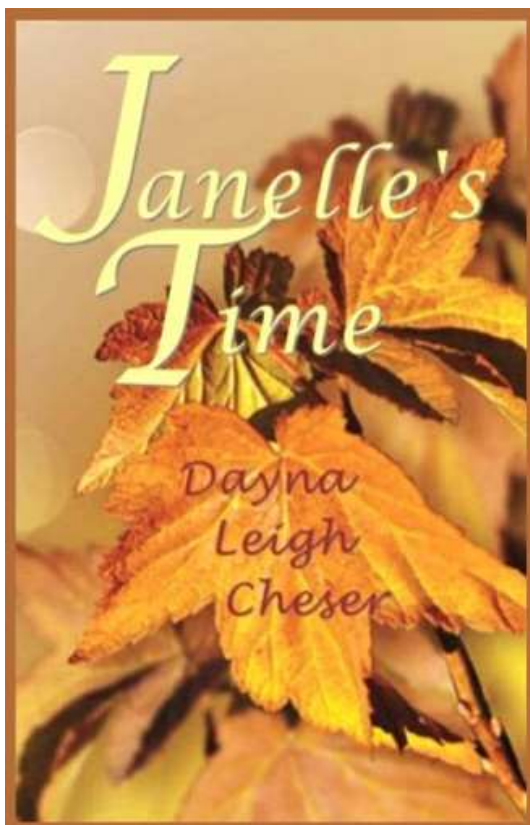

Anyway, my husband and I sat down to figure this out. He’s an IT Tech but has never had anything to do with blogging at all (nor does he want to). He does, however, have the skills to get into GoDaddy’s servers and fix things there ... if they’re broken. But, he wasn’t convinced that was needed, so we started methodically working our way through WordPress, looking for the errant 50 blog posts. After about an hour, we found them. Relief flooded through me, needless to say. Things are almost back to normal.

2013 has been a rather exciting time, so far. After months of going back and forth with my editor, getting 'Moria's Time' into tip-top shape, it was finally ready for prime time. I sent it to my beta readers, to the publisher, and started sending it to reviewers. The expected release date is mid-August.

In the meantime, Cover Reveal day was today, which will be followed by an appearance on 'Julie's Book Reviews' later in the month, after which I'll have the last 2 excerpts posts, plus several posts with information not published in 'Moria's Time.' This will include bios, back stories, and interviews.

I recently added 'Dayna's Store' on my site. There, you can purchase 'Janelle's Time,' book 1 of the Time Series, and you can pre-order 'Moria's Time,' book 2 of the series at a special price – tax and shipping included. I will personally autograph all pre-ordered books, which will be sent to the purchaser as soon as they become available.

These are the two covers. There's a long story connected to the 'Janelle's Time' cover, but I don't want to make you cry.

I'll be moving all the 'Moria's Time' information (excerpts, back stories, bios, interviews) into the TIME Series section (see the Menu Bar), plus keeping up with the status of the other books.

'Adelle's Time' is the next book in the series. Adelle is Moria's twin sister, but the two are absolutely nothing alike. Adelle is a horrid child, but eventually grows up. This book was my winning 2012 NaNoWriMo project.

After 'Adelle's Time' comes 'Logan's Time.' I worked on this book after I submitted 'Janelle's Time' to a publisher so it's partly done, too. I expect this will be the best, and probably the longest, book in the series. Logan, the Scots Duke of Muileach, crashed Richard and Janelle's wedding in 'Janelle's Time.' Readers and reviewers love him, so, when he came to me and demanded his own book, I agreed.

The last book of the series will be 'Clarissa's Time.' Clarissa is Logan's oldest daughter. The only 'detail' I know about the book is that Clarissa will marry Damian Gerard, Janelle's oldest son. It should be an interesting relationship; the Highlands 'wild child' and the quiet and studious Army Captain.

I really hope you'll come back for another visit soon and keep up with the goings on with the TIME Series, the various 'DIY Interviews,' and everything else.

Have a great day and I hope I'll see you soon,

Julie/Dayna
