

Summer/Fall 2016

Greetings from Lake Placid, Florida, where it's still summer - high temperatures and humidity, and afternoon thunderstorms that can dump 5" or more of rain on us within a very short time. We've seen more hail than normal this year so far.

We survived the first hurricane to hit Florida in over 11 years with no trouble - our area saw barely 3 inches of rain over several days and very little wind. The 'Big Bend' area of north Florida, however, took it on the chin - lots of wind and record flooding.

Welcome! If this is your first visit, or if you stop by often, you are welcome here.

Logan's Time

It took a while, but ... success, at last!!!

The cancer battle slowed things down a bit, but Logan's Time was published on 8-29-2016!!

To celebrate, I created a FUN CONTEST. That contest has now closed. Check my blog on September 12, 2016, for the winner of the Kindle Fire and publication of the winning Alphabet Story.

As expected, there are a lot of talented writers out there who sent in an entry. For all of you who sent in an Alphabet Story, THANK YOU!

NEWS FLASH!!

Sept. 5, 2016

The Contest has closed!

Logan's Time* is now available on Amazon.com & Amazon.co.uk.,
with lots more outlets coming.
E-Books will be available soon.

Be sure to check my blog for Logan's Time excerpts, character interviews, and the announcement of the Logan's Time CONTEST WINNER (9/12/2016).

In other book news, the first book of my TIME Series, Janelle's Time is now unavailable. I'm in the process of updating the book and creating a new cover for it. I'll be working on it in the next months, and will release it as soon as it's finished.

Work continues on the Logan's Time book trailer. Bob Atkinson, a native Scots Highlander, and author of two novels about the Jacobite Rebellion, The Last Sunset, and Red Sky in the Morning will be doing the narration.

I'd like to take a moment to update everyone on my cancer battle. The chemo is complete. On September 8th, I'll have surgery followed by 8 weeks of radiation. I hope to be 100% soon!!

That's about it for now. See you next time.

Regards,

Julie/Dayna
